Are you receiving your Mail?

Since the County of Wetaskiwin assigned rural addressing to residential and commercial properties, there has been some confusion regarding proper mailing addresses. Some residents mailing addresses have been changed to rural addresses, which are not recognized by Canada Post in the County of Wetaskiwin as a proper address, and those who have done this will not receive their mail.

Rural addressing, in the County of Wetaskiwin, is used by emergency services to pinpoint the access to a property off a range road or township road. They can also be used for delivery of goods and services to your home. Your rural address is not the same as your legal land description or postal address through Canada Post.

As mentioned above, rural addressing, in the County of Wetaskiwin, is not a Canada Post mailing address. The Canada Post Guide for Addressing, dated January 12, 2015, illustrates addressing as follows:
